

GARTH SHERIFF, CGMA, CIA

Instructor

Garth has been a program instructor and facilitator with 20-20 Services since 2011. Garth has worked as an auditor and learning provider for over 20 years. Garth began his audit career at Deloitte (Toronto) including managing the audits of several large multinational financial institutions. Garth also worked for the Global National Office of Deloitte to assist in updating the firm's global audit methodology to incorporate the requirements from the Sarbanes Oxley Act and Statement on Auditing

Standards (SAS) 99.

As a learning provider, Garth has prepared and trained CPAs for critical changes to the profession, including internal control documentation (SOX) and the AICPA Clarity Project.

Garth is also helping CPAs learn how to navigate the impact of transformative technology on our profession including:

- Blockchain and cryptocurrency
- Artificial intelligence and machine learning

Garth earned a Master of Accounting and a Bachelor of Arts in honors accounting from the University of Waterloo, Canada. He is a member of CPA Canada, the AICPA, and the Institute of Internal Auditors (IIA).

Garth has also worked as both a film and theatre actor. He is a proud member of the Alliance of Canadian Cinema, Television and Radio Artists (ACTRA). He is also a graduate of improvisation from the Second City Training Centre.

Garth is a Toronto Raptors fan for life. Go Raptors!
